MAINE LEAGUE MEETING IN BETHEL WELL ATTENDED

Well over 100 members and guests attended the fifteenth annual meeting of the Maine League of Historical Societies and Museums held at the Moses Mason House and the Bethel Inn on Saturday, Sept. 18. League President Dorris A. Isaacson opened the meeting with brief remarks. Stanley Howe, curator of the Moses Mason House welcomed the group to Bethel. Allan Hawkins of Falmouth Foreside then presented the program which emphasized restoration projects. Ron Kley of the Maine State Museum spoke on the difficulties and problems faced in the restoration of the Moses Mason House, but these were overcome by good workmen, plenty of technical assistance and the generous support of the William Bingham Trust for Charity. Clarke B. Libby of the Scarborough Historical Society presented a slide lecture of the restoration of a 17th century house in his town once the home of the Hunnewell family. His presentation emphasized the importance of community support and the great work of countless volunteers in bringing this historic property to its present fine state.

Luncheon was served at the Bethel Inn. Margaret Joy Tibbets, past president of the Bethel Historical Society, served as luncheon speaker. She provided a glimpse of the area and highlighted certain aspects of its local color. President Isaacson followed her with closing remarks. The group then adjourned at the book fair held in the inn or visited the Moses Mason House for tours.

NOVA BOARD APPROVES PLAN TO PERMIT VOC. ED. IN AREA

The Northern Oxford Vocational Area Cooperative Board approved a plan to reactivate vocational education in Region 9 at a meeting held at Rumford High School on Tuesday night. The proposal will now go to State Commissioner of Education Sawin Millett for his approval, then returned to the units in Region 9 (NOVA) for action.

The plan would provide that the NOVA board would apply for federal funds to hire a part-time administrator to coordinate the delivery of the program, a cooperative educational program by S. A. D. 44, a cooperative education program for handicapped students by S. A. D. 21 and building trades and machine trades program in Rumford.

The plan stipulates that transportation of students to any program in the region would be the responsibility of the sending school system. It also recommends that participating districts seek legal counsel as to the legality of using vocational funds already in the school budgets to finance vocational education.

BETHEL GIRL SCOUTS IN NEED OF LEADERS

At a meeting Tuesday, six people were present to discuss the Girl Scout and Brownie Scout situation for this year.

Sue Grover and Sheila Head will lead a Brownie Troop in West Bethel. Marion Vrabec will continue her group in Bethel. She has six returning Brownies, will take four more, and needs one volunteer to help her. Laurie Crockett will be taking over the Locke Mills-East Bethel group. Jean Monzo will tentatively be resuming her group in a few weeks with Sandra Caton as her assistant. At least one more leader and assistant are needed to accommodate the new second grade Brownies. Volunteers should call Rachel MacKay or Ruth Feeney.

Since no Girl Scout Leaders for the Junior Troop, grades four, five and six, have been found, there are no plans for Girl Scouting this year. One assistant is available. Two more assistants and a leader are needed.

On Oct. 5 at 7 p.m. there will be a district organization meeting at Rumford Point Church. Any new volunteers are asked to come forward before this meeting.

RECREATION BOARD LOOKING FOR BASEBALL/SOFTBALL COMMITTEE VOLUNTEERS

The Bethel Recreation Board is looking for volunteers to serve on a baseball/softball committee. This committee would be responsible for the organization of the Little League teams, farm teams, Colt League, and girls' softball. Organization in this case means, among other things, finding a coach, preparing a budget, and overseeing the funds allotted.

It is the policy of the Recreation Board that all funds appropriated for a particular recreational activity must be channeled through a committee responsible for that particular activity. This not only keeps tabs on the tax dollar but also is an assurance that the quality of the programs shall remain constant. The programs will be ongoing and the last minute search for some person to shoulder all the burdens will be eliminated.

So, if coaching is not your bag, a job can be found for you on the baseball/softball committee, an equal opportunity volunteer group!

David Myers is waiting for your call anytime day or night at 824-2408.

COMMENTS FROM THE TOWN MANAGER'S OFFICE

On Monday night, Sept. 20, the newly created Airport Advisory Committee held its first meeting. Dexter Landers was elected chairman and John Head was elected secretary. The committee spent most of the meeting discussing the duties and responsibilities of the committee as developed by the Board of Selectmen. The responsibilities include:

(1) Review the history of the airport facility and prepare a summary of such history.

(2) Review and develop an inventory of all facilities and equipment at the airport together with a statement of its age and condition.

(3) Review the State's inspection report and, after consultation with the agency, prepare a recommended course of action to solve problems identified.

(4) Develop and submit for approval by the Selectmen an interim set of operational and management procedures for the airport.

(5) Develop and submit to the Town Manager by Dec. 15 a recommended 1977 operating budget for the Airport together with recommendations for increasing airport revenues.

(6) Research and prepare a summary of potential alternatives for future use and operation of the airport and prepare recommended courses of action.

Following discussion, each member was given responsibility for working on one or more of these areas. Members are to report back at the next committee meeting scheduled for Monday night, September 27, at 7:30 in the Town Office.

On Wednesday night, Sept. 22, the Planning Board met in regular session at the Town Office. Peter Kalley of the Recreation Board met with the Board to discuss possible sites for a municipal recreation area. Discussions centered on the size and location such an area should encompass. Mr. Kalley informed the Board of some potential sites, identified by the Recreation Board and asked for other suggestions from the Planning Board. In another action the Board approved a subdivision on Paradise Road on property of Stella Eames and the estate of Ellen Eames. The subdivision is to be called Southern Acres. The next meeting of the Planning Board will be Wednesday night, Sept. 29.

The Board of Assessors met Monday and Tuesday nights this week to continue work to complete the 1976 valuation. Following the Monday night meeting, there were a number of questions the Board wanted the Sewall Company to review. Mr. Fenessey of the Sewall Company met with two members of the Board Wednesday afternoon to straighten out these questions.

The Board of Selectmen will meet in regular session Monday night, Sept. 27, at 7 o'clock in the Town Office.

On Tuesday, Sept. 21, Bradley Barker, chairman of the Board of Selectmen, presented Bethel's Boston Post Cane to the town's oldest resident, Mrs. Ruth Grover, at her home in West Bethel. Mrs. Grover was born in Lewiston, April 12, 1883, the daughter of Fred and Orlett Billings Bean. She moved to Bethel when five weeks of age and has lived in the town most of her 93 years. A graduate of Gould Academy, class of 1901, she married Adrian Loring Grover on March 25, 1907. Mr. Grover, a farmer, died in 1954. The couple were the parents of five children: Dorothy Schmidt of Augusta; Sylvia Luxton of Bethel; Hazel Wheeler of West Bethel; Frederick Grover who died in 1971 and Florice Paul of West Bethel.

She is also a member of the Bethel Historical Society and remains alert and active.

The Boston Post Cane tradition began in 1910 when the newspaper or invested several thousands of dollars to present each township in New England with a gold-headed cane to be passed on to the oldest resident.

Suzanne gave a good report of her trip, as did the two Boys Statesmen, Brent Swan and Ernest Bolo. Girls State Director Shirley Williams of Dryden sat at the head table and spoke briefly.

Sitting at a special table were the Post's baseball boys and their Athletic Director Leland Dunham who gave each player a Certificate of Participation.

The Louisville Slugger Award went to Malcolm Bennett with a batting average of .436 and the Americanism Citation was given to Chris Olson.

A Certificate of Appreciation was presented to Warren Smith

Garden Notes

Are there such things as weeds, or are all plants wild, cultivated or those that have become volunteers in the wild landscape? Yes, there are weeds, certainly. Various plants are far more invasive than others and it is this characteristic that is indicated when a plant is called "weedy". But any plant, no matter how delightful its blossoms, is a weed if it is growing where it is unwanted. To many of us a weed is anything growing in our neighbor's yard which we do not appreciate but are afraid we will soon have in ours. Some plants such as dandelions seed themselves so plentifully that controlling them is difficult, to say the least, and I often wonder why we don't relax and enjoy the effect of a dandelion lawn in full bloom.

After all, there are Thyme Lawns and Camomile Lawns so why not Dandelion? The bright yellow blossoms and fluffy seed heads, are most attractive and Dandelion wine, correctly made, is delicious to say nothing of Dandelion greens!

With the wealth of plant materials available to us through various plant growers and seed catalogues our gardens can vary as much as our tastes permit. The sort of thing that appeals to one person may not to another in gardening as well as in clothing or household furnishing. I delight in beds of well tended, ground covers; Myrtle, Euonymus, Walking stick Plant, Sweet Woodruff, etc., that are interplanted with spring bulbs adding color to the greenery all through the season. Since the leaves must be left intact to insure blooms the following year, the bulbs cause some unsightly mess as they fade. But to me this is part of Nature's cycle and hardly a deterrent. Though most of my neighbors find my beds attractive, not all consider them gardens. To some, a garden means orderly rows in beds or borders. There was one tidy neighbor who couldn't condone yellowing foliage. Needless to say, her choice of plant materials varied from mine and her yard was always attractive. Variety in gardens adds interest to a neighborhood. Appreciated by one and all is the person who does his own thing well. The neighborhood irritant is the one who does nothing at all and maintains he likes his yard "natural". With work and study one finds that natural appearing gardens such as Japanese Tea gardens are created and maintained by incessant work and with a great deal of critical observation and forethought.

Plant volunteers with attractive foliage or blooms popping up hither and yon through flower and vegetable beds may appeal to some as natural though they may appall the fastidious. But such volunteers become a menace when they invade a bed of timid material such as Alpines or rare rock plants. Some volunteers are lost to inflicting roots or foliage. While some plants are termed invasive, others less so may be called intrusive and the difference is that the former are really hostile to their weaker neighbors while the latter may be welcome guests.

Time eventually discloses the proclivities of any plant material. To divide and conquer is a natural phenomenon and one must decide whether to step back and say "May the best plant win" or to do the weak and helpless against the colonizing tendencies of invasive interlopers.

LISA TANGUAY MEMORIAL SCHOLARSHIP FUND FORMED AT GORHAM, N. H. HIGH SCHOOL

It has been announced by Henry F. Dubois, assistant principal at Gorham N. H. High School, that a Memorial Scholarship Fund has been formed to honor Lisa Tanguay, a popular 1975 graduate of the school who lost her life in an auto accident on Sept. 4.

Proceeds from the fund will go to a Gorham High graduate who has been accepted in a school of nursing, according to Mr. Dubois. Miss Tanguay was a student nurse at Central Maine General Hospital in Lewiston.

Anyone wishing to contribute should make checks payable to the Lisa L. Tanguay Scholarship Fund, c/o Henry F. Dubois, Gorham High School, Gorham, N. H. Cash donations should be accompanied by a return address so a receipt can be sent.

The following was written by Miss Tanguay while she was a student at Gorham High:

Who Am I?
Who I appear to be outwardly is very easy to describe—a girl who attends Gorham High, participates in almost everything she can get into, is always planning or organizing something, is planning to get married and become a nurse, and seems to be generally cheerful most of the time.

Who I am and who I want to be inwardly is the very personal and real part of me that I'd like to share with you at this time. Who I am and who I want to be are two different things in my life many times, and I will spend the rest of my life trying to bring the gap between the two closer together. Trying to serve my own ego is what I am doing many times and trying to serve God is what I want to be doing. It's easy to become a slave to your own ego. It's an endless battle to try to seek every possible means to build yourself up. You'll spend your whole life seeking and doing, and you'll never be happy because your ego always wants to be bigger. Being a slave to God is not really being a slave at all, however. You don't have to be on guard anymore trying to defend your ego because this isn't the most important thing anymore. Your main concern is not yourself, but others. It's not a matter of taking all you can get, but giving all you can give. It's taken me 17 years of being a slave to my own ego to finally come to understand this. I'm sick of trying to get all I can. I want to start giving. I can take and take and take but true happiness comes from giving.

I have plenty of things I want to start giving to people now and later in the future. I say start because I start everyday now fighting against my ego instead of for it. Many times I find myself slaving for it again, and I laugh at myself to think how foolish it is. Some things I want to start giving are: understanding as a friend, hope and assurance as a nurse, love as a wife, time as a mother, and my life as a person who finally has realized that I need someone to help me; and that someone is God.

I have a good understanding of what I want to be and what direction I want to go in my life. I see nothing to be afraid of anymore except of being a slave to my ego. As long as I stay close to God, I can jump into each day without having to worry about someone seeing through me and seeing who I really am. I don't have to worry about someone hurting my built-up ego. I don't have to keep up with the Joneses. All I have to concern myself with is what I can give of myself to help make this world a little happier place to live in.

BIBLE SPEAKS RALLY AT RUMFORD CORNER, SEPT. 25

COMMUNITY CHURCH PASTOR SPEAKS AT THE INN SEPT. 25
Dr. J. Phillip Jackson, pastor of Community Church, Rumford Center, will be the featured speaker at the Christian Fellowship Breakfast, Saturday, Sept. 25, at 9 a. m. at Bethel Inn.

Dr. Jackson began preaching in England at the age of 13 when he was known as "the dynamic boy preacher of Britain". He has held "healing crusades" in the largest churches in Britain and the United States including 38 consecutive weeks in Rock Church, New York City, where cripples walked without their crutches and many were turned away owing to capacity crowds. He is now in his fourth year as founder and pastor of the Community Church. In February he was designated House Chaplain for the House of Representatives of the 107th Maine Legislature.

He holds five earned doctorates, including Doctor of Divinity, Theology, Literature, Laws and Letters. Religious Education and Philosophy, is a graduate of Lyndon Bible College, Devonshire, Kenley Bible College, Surrey; Metropolitan University, London; England and Florida Beach College in St. Petersburg. His MA and PhD degrees were earned at Metropolitan University.

Following his arrival in the U. S. in 1956, he evangelized in key cities and pastored on Long Island for seven years. For five years he was chief chaplaincy in Suffolk County, N. Y., where he trained clergy from all faiths in emergency procedures.

Dr. Jackson, son of an English minister, has been billed as "preaching with the eloquence of Apollo and the dynamics of Paul". His topic at the Fellowship Breakfast is "It's All Yours." Everyone is welcome and reservations may be made by calling the Inn.

DEMOCRATS HONOR COONEY AT SEPT. 16 PARIS MEETING
Leighton Cooney, candidate for Congress in the Second District, and Mark Gartley, Secretary of State, were the honored guests at the September dinner meeting of the Oxford County Democratic Committee, on Thursday evening, Sept. 16, at the Paris Grange. Gartley was on hand to answer questions on election laws and procedures, and invited anyone with queries prior to Nov. 2 to call his office in Augusta for clarification.

The county meeting coincided with the opening of the Market Square Democratic Headquarters, which has material available from Democratic candidates on all levels. Tom Bourgeois announced that the headquarters will be increasing the hours which it is open, and that volunteers are needed for staffing. Janice Soucy, Rumford Democratic chairperson, added that a similar operation will be opening soon in the Rumford-Mexico area.

The dinner meeting, hosted by Norway and Paris committees, attracted a number of guests including Rep. Thomas Lapointe of Portland, Director of Camp Susan Curtis, Rep. Ed Kelleher of Bangor, and Richard Palenau of neighboring Berlin, N. H., who has been with the Carter campaign since January and is presently assigned to Lewiston-Auburn and the western counties for Carter.

NUMBER OF CHILDREN BORN WAS FEWEST IN 70 YEARS The fewest children in 70 years were born in Maine in 1974 says Dale Welch, director, Division of Research and Vital Statistics, Maine Department of Human Services. The 1974 Maine Vital Statistics which takes two years to complete, showed 15,110 births that year, and the births rate to be at an all time low of 14.4 births per 1,000 people. The last time fewer births were recorded was 1904, when 14,673 children were born.

Past records, which have been compiled since 1892, show the number of births and birth rates were slowly declining until 1949. From 1949 until 1964 births in the state were above 21,000 a year and the birth rate held at an average 24 per 1,000 people. Since 1964 births and the birth rates have steadily declined, despite a growth in population.

For the first time the statistics recorded abortions performed in Maine. There were 434 pregnancies reported terminated, 263 of which were induced abortions. The total figures represent a 115.8% increase over 1973. "However," Welch says, "the reporting of abortions is still very deficient in most areas of the state so the completeness of this one figure is open to question."

There were 190 neonatal deaths (infant deaths during the first four weeks of life) in 1974, a 4.4% decrease since 1973. Officials believe that the neonatal intensive Medical Center that year will be responsible for further declines in the neonatal death rate.

The infant mortality rate has steadily declined. The 1974 figure is 36.1% lower than in 1960, 48.4% lower than in 1950 and 69.6% lower than in 1940. No women died during childbirth in Maine for the second consecutive year.

Welch says the population of the state was estimated at 1,049,395. This is a net gain of 55,732 or 5.6% more than in 1970, when the last official census was conducted. The natural increase was 24,479 with an estimated inward net migration of 31,253.

All Maine counties gained people. The lowest gain was in Aroostook with a 1.8% increase and the highest were Lincoln and Sagadahoc counties with more than 10% increases in population. Since 1970 the largest percentage of population increases have been in the mid-coastal area of Knox, Waldo, Hancock, Lincoln and Sagadahoc counties.

There were 11,546 marriages in 1974, 379 less than in 1973. It marks the first year marriages have decreased since 1958.

There were a record 4,850 divorces granted that year. This reflects a continued increase in divorces since 1961. One or more minor children were involved with about two thirds of the divorces.

We often wonder if the politicians believe one-half the things they say.

CARD OF THANKS We would like to express our sincere gratitude to all the wonderful people of Bethel who were such a help during our recent sorrow. A special thank you to the Bethel Ambulance Service and our neighbors on Paradise Hill. We feel that the people of Bethel are very special and we shall never forget all your thoughtful care.

Sincerely, Judy and Tim Kersey and family

BICENTENNIAL BYPATHS On September 25, 1776, at Dorset (now) Vermont, delegates from the New Hampshire Grants on both sides of Green Mountains, bitterly condemned the State of New York for extending its jurisdiction over the Grants and violating the land interest of the inhabitants. They would adhere to all decisions of this and future conventions not "repugnant to the resolves of the honourable Continental Congress, relative to the general cause of America."
